3 short video clips are now available directly off our website that provide a quick and handy guide in selecting and using your 4 way fins. Fine tuning your equipment is right at your fingertips.

1.) Selecting the right template and foil material

In this video clip we'll be focussing on different size fin templates and different fin materials giving you a short overview who and when to surf what.

2.) How to loosen up your board

In this video we'll be focussing on making your board more manoeuvrable, in other words it will be easier to make turns and feel more responsive under foot. This is also something to try if swell size has dropped and you don't need as much hold as in larger surf.

3.) How to generate more drive

In this video clip we'll be focusing on making your board more drivey, in other words it'll generate additional down the line speed and feel faster underfoot. This is also something to try if swell size has increased and you require more "hold" and less

Check them out by clicking on the relevant topic below, or download them from directly from our website to your I-pod. You've spent a fair whack on getting that new board, now make sure you get the most out of it!
